

Centennial Campus Writing Fellows

Read Me: Hello to all Fellow Students! Please remember that ALL of these tutorial sessions are available for your use. These small sessions are designed to cover basic topics and issues that tutors at the Learning Commons have encountered when working with students. You may attend any of these sessions that you wish, however some instructors typically require that you attend specific session topics, so make sure you check with your instructor. The topics for each session are different every week; see the attached sheet to know which topics will be covered on which dates. Please be advised that you must attend at least 45 minutes of a tutorial session. If you are in more than one course that is participating in Writing Fellows, include the course name and section number for each course in the after session survey. Keep in mind that these times may change based on student needs and participation. Thank you!
